Munich, Germany – 1st of March 2024 – Formerly known as Smart4Diagnostics GmbH, Munich-based HealthTech startup S4DX announces a new investment and leadership team. This exciting development fuels S4DX's continued growth and innovation, both in the digital pre-analytics space and within the broader diagnostics landscape.

Strengthening Collaboration with IVD Partners

S4DX leverages its partnerships with leading In Vitro Diagnostics (IVD) companies to seamlessly integrate Smart.Safe.Samples™ into existing workflows. This collaboration ensures compatibility with a wide range of diagnostics equipment and facilitates adoption within laboratories and healthcare facilities.

New Leadership to Drive Growth

S4DX GmbH welcomes a new leadership team, consisting of Dr. Robin Nagel, Ruxandra Oprea, and Viktar Patotski. They will be responsible for guiding the company's future direction.

"Like us, our partners believe in the S4DX solution and have supported us over the past few months. With the investor solution now secured, S4DX is well-positioned to look positively towards 2024 and to drive digitalization in pre-analytics and solidify its presence within the diagnostics industry," says Dr. Robin Nagel.

Strong Investor Backing Fuels Expansion

The new investment provides S4DX with the resources to accelerate product development, market expansion, and continued collaboration with our existing corporate partners in the IVD industry. This long-term investment underscores the confidence in S4DX's technology and its potential to transform the healthcare industry. It also allows S4DX to respond to the strong commercial interest from hospitals and laboratories across the US, Europe, Africa, and the Middle East.

"We are excited to partner with S4DX and support their mission to improve medical diagnostics through digital pre-analytics solutions," says Peter Almberg, CEO of Katalysen Venture AB. "What convinced us at S4DX is the enormous market potential for digital solutions in pre-analytics."
